In three phases to reliable cleanliness.

We have developed a special cycle in order to ensure that your cleanroom garments are regularly reconditioned for daily use and treated according to the respective standards.

1 Pick-up
Used cleanroom garments are collected directly from you by bardusch.

3 Inspection
Your cleanroom textiles are checked for functionality and necessary repairs.

2 Loading
Your garments are loaded into the laundry via a specially developed airlock.

5 Airlocks for cleanrooms
The washed garments leave the machine and enter the cleanroom directly via a transfer airlock.

4 Washing
The textiles undergo several disinfection washes in special washer extractors.

6 Cleanroom
This is where the textiles are dried and folded. We constantly monitor parameters such as particles, pressure and water via online monitoring.

8 Sterilisation
Our textiles are sterilised using an autoclave that meets all the requirements of EN 867-3 and EN 285.

7 Packaging
Before transport, the cleanroom textiles are packaged in specially designed PE bags. This ensures that everything remains particle-free in transit.

9 Delivery
Our textile leasing service ends with you. We provide you with customised care at the pace and in the quantity you need.

The filter between people and product.

Our collections feature absolute safety and the best possible breathability. Thanks to the extreme fineness of the polyester filaments, the microfiber fabric is so dense that vapor can diffuse from the body to the outside whilst particles are retained.

Quality and safety are in the detail.

Special processing techniques such as edge finishing with binding or overlock seams ensure maximum safety. The integrated carbon fibre thread prevents electrostatic charging.

Outside almost impenetrable.

Special processing techniques guarantee absolute purity for your manufacturing processes in the cleanroom.

Antistatic inbetween.

Inside optimally breathable

Water vapour can diffuse from your body to the outside. However, particles are safely retained.

Our protection programme for the future.

As a professional textile service provider, we think in a circular way: from the purchase of textiles to the treatment of the laundry to disposal, we work every day to close loops. For us, top quality means combining cost efficiency with environmental protection and social responsibility.
